I am working on a site, yes another one, called Clan Center. Basically this post is to ask who would like to help and be a staff member.

Following spots are open:

Article writer - will submit articles to us
CSS master - fluent in CSS
Graphics artist - will make graphics for the site
PHP or ASP coder - One who is willing to code some projects
Public Relations Manager - Handles all advertising, affiliates, etc.

If interested please email me at zerokewlz@comcast.com or post here
The sites address and site will be released soon

What I want is rather emense. I want to get a site hit up that clan sites can put on there site and it will be a rating. The more hits you get, the higher your rank is. So ya, if you have time for that let me know!

It'll be easy as long as you have access to a database of some kind.
