Select Utilities (the hammer icon), then pick "MaxScript", a drop down box will appear, select W3d->Gmax Importer (you have to select it), then scroll down the button is there ("Load W3d Object").

Hope that helps.

I can find the scroll down box but when I scroll down there is nothing there about "w3d->gmax importer"...the box is blank

It should appear on your toolbar when you have added it. Mine looks like this :

Ok as so many people are having problems adding the W3D converter button i have made a video tutorial on how you add it. It requires the DivX 5 codev to view it. The veideo guide is here http://generalhavoc.port5.com/w3dt.zip . On the viado you will see 2 other buttons with the same icon, there just copies of the button that i just added to test if it worked. Make sure you have installed the MAX script properly before trying to follow the guide.
