I've been creating a online game called "t3h RPG", basically, it's an IRC game which is a full RPG, when it's done.

Right now, you can currently make a character, go to the local town, buy some weapons, potions, get a room to sleep, gamble, and a few other little shops.

If you'd like to support the effort and get into the game while the gold is plentiful (  ), then you can either connect to us with mIRC by connecting to irc.n00bstories.com and joining #t3hRPG or, if you do not know what the heck mIRC is, you can start playing by going to this link:

http://www.renfiles.com/t3hrpgchat
-- If you use this, as soon as you connect, you need to type /nick nickname

Thanks  for your time, this should be a hoot once it's done!

What's coming soon?

- Battle system
- A full single player campaign as well as random levels.
- Making your own shop.
- Lots more.

It's more complicated than it looks, and the casino gets you hooked.

I lost everything to that casino

Is this game text based or does it have graphics?

It sounds like an exact text version of Diablo, except for the sleeping bit...

Diablo 2 > All.

If any of you have played a game called: "Gothic", It'll probably be a cross between that and Diablo 2.  I haven't really tried to do that, but that seems like that is what it's turning out to be.

If this becomes a success, is there any chance of a C&C version being made?

Perhaps

We'll be expanding this game a lot over the next weeks. Note, it is still in beta stages.

Hey Beanyhead, if you ever want to move on to 3d you know where I am...

(I have a half dozen 3d medieval weapons that are just collecting dust...  )

It'd be interesting to create a 3-D version of the game but it gave commands to the IRC while you played.

I meant as a mod for Renegade, or on a free 3d engine.

Hmmm.... Possibly.

Also, we have thought of a have agreeded on a new name, however, we are not releasing the name to the public yet so we can be sure to get the domain name.
