You go to profile, and under profile information is a box labeled "Signature".

umm... thats part of it. First, you have to format your C:\ drive to clear out some stuff that may be blocking it from being saved to the internet from your computer. After you do that, put on a pink miniskirt, and go outside and tapdance on the roof of your car. Then try; it should work.

You forgot the part about throwing your Renegade CD into the microwave and putting your microwave on high for 5 minutes, and also the part about burning your pink miniskirt after that. (while you are wearing it)
