Looks like there are some DNS problems abounding, so use the IP 207.44.205.140 to connect to the chat.

If you're not mIRC-savvy, just type:

/server 207.44.205.140

and you'll be connected. More information as it becomes available.

Ah I was just about to post a new topic but seen as we are on the theme of your irc I woulkd like to ask this:

At sholl I can not connect to any mirc channel via mirc I get a "unable to connect to server" error (I think will check specfic error name when back at school moday)...

I can connect via the IE applet though so this leads me to the question is there a way to connect with mirc I presume a certain port is needed for the program that te applet doesn't require...

Please could some one help me get it running...

Ah ur server works fine for me Crimson.

I thought this was a temporary issue but since it's long-standing I made it sticky.

You can also connect via beaconpedestal.

/server beaconpedestal.radiantx.net:6969

Or, if RadiantX DNS is down,

/server irc.beaconpedestal.com:6969
