We've been working on this mod for about 4 months now and we're getting to point where the work is too much for 2 people. So we're asking any modelers, mappers, skinners and soundy ppl if they want some stuff to do.

The mod is looking really good so if you want to be a part of it then we could really use some help. Models and maps are our top priority at the moment, if you can show us what you've done that'd be a good start. Please feel free to email me or get me on msn (probably faster).

Regards,
Toasty

It would be helpful if you told people what the mod was about, or gave us the link to your mod's website. . .

Sorry about that, I'm still working on the site.
Theres a basic outline of the story here
I've just started up an info section on the site so you guys can get some more info.
Have fun :sigh:

Well, all the screenshots we got are quite old so theres not much point in posting them again (if your that desperate to see the few old ones we got follow the links in toastys sig to our site and then the forum)

we have an old video of the nuke thingy i made for the evolved team, you need the latest (i think) DivX codec to play it http://www.DivX.com
http://www.cnc-era.com/thiima/nuke2.avi

we've got some aircraft and a soldier robot thingy which i've found from turbosquid and coverted to work in renegade, but we dont really have any of our own models, which is why were asking for help.

ThiimaPlease?

I told you, you're not going get people to join if you sit here and just pratically beg. And when toasty is being a dick to forum members, that's going make peoples interest in helping out sink. Try treating members with respect and possibly you'll get your help. And more about your mod would be nice. Instead of us being forced to navigate to your webpage.
