What's your favorite FPS game? I'm just curious. If you are going to say Counter-Strike, don't bother posting as it's already been said a lot.

My favorite FPS game is either Renegade or Tribes 2.

Shazbot! Tribes2 is good, I haven't played it in ages actually. But Renegade wins the prize easily.

For multiplayer I'd say Renegade, and for single player Half-Life.

But Perfect Dark is probably the best overall considering what it achieved on an underpowered system (considering how ambitious it was) with a bad controller (for FPS games) and no online. That may be the best game of all time.

tribes2 4 ever! cant wait for tribes3

Edit: If pd was remade for pc it would be 10X better than counter strike!

then add better graphics, map making tools, auto dl maps\guns, built in voice software, expanded

SP missions. then what do you have

Holy crap, I forgot about Perfect Dark. I just recently bought a Nintendo 64 and Expansion Pak to play that game. It was only 4 bucks used. The best multiplayer experience on the same TV, hands down.

If they did port this to PC, it would indeed be an awesome game. Maybe we have better hopes with something say, TimeSplitters 2?

Quake 3 was a lot of fun, and I have to mention Doom because I played it to death back in the day... but I'd have to go with Renegade as my favourite because there are so many aspects to the multiplayer game. It would be perfect if only they hadn't put the stupid Ramjet Rifle in the game.

It would have been perfect if the support wouldn't have been dropped and it would have been really good had they had the original modes it was supposed to have.

Perfect Dark is great! The weapons are so cool and stuff!

BTW to play on your computer try looking on <http://www.n64emulators.com>, my friend downloaded one and he plays Perfect Dark on his computer, I don't know which one though.

Doom

I owned it on:

PC

Atari Jaguar

PS1

Nin64

Only game to this date that has actually made me jump multiple times when playing it.

Doom3 I can't wait for. I will upgrade my system for it.

Wolfenstein 3D was good, considering doom was about the only other FPS around at that time, they used a graphics method called raycaster to draw there graphics from your point of view.

Unreal Tournament 2004 is nowhere close to the best. In my opinion, the game is just lame.

#1 FPS: C&C Renegade. w00t

I think I good game that's coming up is Doom III. Everybody is hyping HL2, but after playing a second beta of Doom III, I know it's going to be fucking awesome.

MrBobUnreal Tournament 2004!

I liked the game play in 2003 better than 2004. It just seemed smoother. Even though the new Onslaught mode it pretty cool.

Umm, yea, come to think of it, I guess I really don't have a "favorite." love UT2004, but I wish it had more of a "smoother" play as you put it, not enough stealth.

I just got Call of Duty on Saturday, and I think it is a VERY fun game to play. Especially the dramatic escapes in the trucks and cars because of the fact that characters in the game can hand you weapons, fire accurately, fire at you realistically. And you can lean out of the window of cars etc.

UT2004 I thought it was really fun...But obviously I have not played the full yet. The demo has only like 5 maps...the full version should have over 100! It might take first place over CoD, but not just yet.

Renegade. Played it so much that Its not as fun anymore. Was good while it lasted though.

My favorite FPS's are:

Command & Conquer Renegade (Best. FPS. Ever.)

Good Maps/Mods for C&C Renegade (e.g. RenAlert)

DOOM (classic FPS and the game that started it all)

DOOM2 (great follow-on to a great game)

Good Maps/Mods for DOOM/DOOM2 (my favorite is probably Ghostbusters Doom, maybe someone should do a Ghostbusters mod for Renegade)

TRON 2.0 (Great movie and a fun game, it really brings in all the elements from the past 20 years of computer development)

My favorite FPS games are

- Renegade
  - Aliens vs Predator 2
  - Serious Sam 1&2 (excellent graphics and gameplay)
  - Unreal tournament (the first one)
  - Soldier of Fortune 2 (played only demo, but it was still good)
  - Half Life
  - Hostile Waters (more of a simulator, but still a FPS game)
  - Aliens vs predator 1 (damn, those Marine missions were hard!)
  - Doom 2
  - Duke Nukem 3D
  - Dark forces (very old, but very good Star-Wars game)

I would have to say Renegade for multi. And I dont really play single player FPS's. Main reason why I say renegade over Half life is because in renegade I just feel like there are much more options, not just running around trying to pick up your favorite weapon before someone smoked you. Also I love going around in a APC and running people, no better sound then that boink

3D FPS's Online

- #1 Command & Conquer: Renegade (Easily the best MP experience to date)
- #2 Battlefield 1942 (Original is great, all available mods make it even better.)
- #3 Half-Life (CS never really appealed to me but DoD, FireArms etc. are great.)
- #4 Shared equally by games like Aliens Vs. Predator 2, Savage, Quake etc.

3D FPS's "Offline"

They're practically too many to list but here are a few:

Deus Ex (Still the undisputed champion), Half-Life (incl. expansions), Aliens Vs. Predator 2, TimeSplitters 2 (PS2, XBOX, GC), Golden Eye (N64), Perfect Dark (N64), Doom (I & II), The Thief series etc. etc.
