Keep shit like this up and your whole clan will be.

Go play on your 18 player server that has 2 players max.

b.t.w I think like 90% of gse is banned from all servers for doing something gay like playing under differnt names using bighead and final, then when they are caught and banned they clain why the hell were we banned.

Intresting enough, no gse members are in the ban logs, so if you were banned you must have been acting like a retaded little n00b under a differnt name and got your cdkey baned. :rolleyes:

where is the voting module?

Quote:

4. Modules

Modules are program parts that can be disabled/enabled by the administrators. Use !modules to find out, what modules are supported:

htmloutput: Produces HTML Logfiles. Be sure that a "html" subdirectory exists in your brenbot directory.

gamespy_players: Displays a playerlist inside of ASE/Gamespy. Note that this is Linux only at the time of this writing.

seen: Enables !seen on the server.

usermessages: Enables !setjoin / !viewjoin on the server

teammessages: Displays Team Messages in IRC recommend: Enables the recommendation System. This also includes the messages when a user joins. !n00b is included here.

Pingresponse: BR reports ping when players request it teams: Automatically evens teams by warning recent teamchangers and then kicking them, if they do not change back. Good for big public servers with teamchoose on.

gameresults: Enables/disables automatic recommendations after the round.

Well, whatever.   My point is, everyone chosses a name for a reason. Mine just happened to be a movie I like a few years ago. Just about that time, I started to get a little better known in the community. Instead of changing my name, and explaing to everyone who I was, I kept it.

Alkaline is part of the PH scale of measuring acidity of objects.

You have three different forms on a scale of 14 points, from -7 to +7 if I remember correctly.

Alkaline, which is -7, neutral which is pure water, and +7 which is pure acid.

Subject: Petition to ban Alkaline
Posted by DarkFish on Sat, 27 Mar 2004 09:39:29 GMT

Essentially right, but it goes from 1 to 14, with 1 being very strong acid, 7 being neutral, and 14 being very strong alkali.

Assuming the quote:

Quote:Since your groups of crackheads have managed to locked/delete/move all my threads I will make it hellish for you guys

Was actually said by Alkaline, then you HAVE broken the rules.
And I refer to the ToS:

Quote:You agree that the webmaster, administrator and moderators of this forum have the right to remove, edit, move or close any topic at any time should they see fit.

That means that your opinions on the matter are irrelivant. The webmaster and her staff can edit, remove, and do whatever they want to your posts. And you AGREED to it.

With that in mind:
Quote:You agree not to post any abusive, obscene, vulgar, slanderous, hateful, threatening, sexually-oriented or any other material that may violate any applicable laws.

By threatening to "make it hellish" for us, you have threatened this establishment. It doesn't matter how you meant to phrase it, you said it. I don't appreciate threats, and I'm pretty sure they are illegal to make in the first place.

With that proof in mind: You are in the wrong, and you should be punished.
