TheGunrunOn this site i find that many of the memebers are mad flamers. When ever they find a chance they start flaming and like flames they spread. In almost all of the 6 and under rated storys there is allways flames. Allways there is some one to attack some one else. People here are too impressionistic. Small pointless events of rebelian lead to larger flames and they stay. Im not mad, im just dissappointed at how this community acts. People who flame are stupid or think this is the only way to find a balance or powers. Vote this what ever i dont give, this is just a point im trying to convay. You know who you are.

This is a quote if from n00bstories.com from a n00b story that i wrote quite a while ago. I decided to bring this to your attention because i belive that this applys to the people of these forums. Think before your act people! Its all i can say.

Are you gay or something? Or do you think everyone else here is?

The proper term is "insult" not "flaming."

Unless, of course, you're a flaming homosexual.

What we need is the banning of certain members. The one's that leave nothing but a 10 page bash fest in their path. (ex. Alkaline)

P.S. Alkaline still needs to be banned.

Was funny that it became a huge thread. He just needs to be banned for the simple fact that no one would risk themselves to save his ass.

Hmm.. sounds like that stupid NOD and nod thing u said a while back. You must be very insecure if u have to correct someone everytime they make a mistake. Also do u allways have to turn everything any one says into some kind of homosexual remark? Seriously, remeber that 'make up the story as it goes' topic? You kept making the story go into some kind of gay ass fucking situation. I think you ACK are some kind of homosexual trying to hid it by calling other people gay. Dude Just learn to shut up.

That's like saying "Fixing your car means my car must be broken down."

It's a stupid form of reasoning, and you're a stupid individual.

Your quick hostility only increases my believe in you are actually homo. Just learn to shut up.

Also if u dont like what people say about you just leave. Don't continue with the meaningless act of flaming, because you are just showing how childlike you are. Flaming is just a stupid act of trying to gain power over an other. Stop being anal and just let people do what they do.

Ack should've been banned a long time ago, I don't know why he hasn't yet maybe the mods don't care or get intimidated by him. He's the most abusive person that's ever been on these forums and he's able to continue abusing people and get away with it, why noone else sees this is beyond me. Crimson you seem like a nice person but I don't know how you can come to his defense every time when you know his behaviour is wrong. Ack I know you never listen to anyone and probably never will I just hope one day you'll realise how much of an asshole you've been then maybe you'll change your ways.

Dude, you have no clue what you're talking about. Ack has been beneficial to the community. And since you said that Crimson "seems" to be a nice person, I take it you haven't been here long. I could be wrong, but that's my observation. If you are new, stfu and get used to him.

Petty, no. Wrong, yes.

The term is correct, but it still sounds like people calling themselves homosexual each time they use it.

Crimson is my friend. So is Blazer and all the other moderators here. I'm not banned because I don't threaten the site or the network it's hosted on. All I do is post my opinions, sort of like what you just did right there. I suppose that makes you worthy of being banned too?

I listen to people who make some sort of difference, or mean something to me. You're a forum newbie who doesn't seem to know what the fuck you're talking about. Perhaps YOU need to change YOUR ways, by crawling back under the rock you came from.

I like fire

Ever poured boiling wax into a camp fire? I don't recommend doing so.

How bout makeing wax plasma? Well, its not realy plasma, but its alot like it. I took a can of wax, and heated past the boiling point, the wax vapour then condenced and formed this plasma like cloud inside the can, the vapour was very explosive and would burn while in a cloud state, it was very scary. But not quite as scary when a friend of mine tried to smother the flames coming from the can with orange juice. There wasn't any instant reaction, the orange juice droped to the bottom of the can, formed a gas, the pressure caused a small exposition spuing wax all over the place, and sending small wax fireballs threw the air, they landed and continued to burn.

After this, we removed all the wood from the fire, leaveing just the hot coals. Or so we thought. My firend took a stick and sturred the ashes, the entire pit then burst into flames once again. With no fuel in the fire. I beleve unburnt wax had run into the underlying ash of the fire unburnt, and when surfaced started to burn again. This left over wax wasn't going out, our only choice was to put it out with water, this did work, but the water was rapidly evaporateing, faster then we could pour it, at this point we decided it would be safest to smother it in mud, so that it could not rekindle.

I think that sentence makes you somewhat of a hypocrite...you posted originally to state that flame wars are ruining the community, yet you then insult ACK twice by calling him a homo, based solely on what he posted or has posted in the past?

Is it just me or am i missing something here?

Hypocrisy: the assumption or postulation of moral standards to which one's own behaviour does not conform; dissimulation, pretence.

deceit, deceitfulness, duplicity, double-dealing, deception, play-acting, falseness, fakery, falsity, Pharisaism, insincerity, sanctimony, sanctimoniousness, phinness, dissimulation, pretence: see deciet

Hypocrite: a person given to hypocrisy.

Now im sure ACK doesnt need me to defend him, to the contrary i am not. I am merely giving my opinion as I see it. If you say this is wrong, but then do it yourself, doesnt it make you words meaningless? Or is the whole thing: "do as I say, not as I do."?

sheesh Smokie, im dipolmatic about it. (first time for everything i guess) and you go for the neck? It's a public forum they can state their opinions as they see fit...it goes for everyone in the community.....And with that in mind, flame wars or for the benefit of ACK "insult wars" are going to happen, not everyone is best friends with everyone else...some people are hated...Shit i hate people in here, if they insulted me i'd return the favour, and im damn sure alot of people in here hate me....But i think they all live in Black-cell, (probably the same majority that hates you too.).
